A very valuable MERCHANT MILL,
A DISTILLERY and BREWERY, and ſundry STONE QUARRIES to be let.
I will rent my merchant Mill at the little Falls of Potowmac, for any term not leſs than ſeven, nor more than eleven years, from the firſt day of September next. The mill-houſe is 42 by 40 feet, three ſtories high, built with ſtone, and has in it three pairs of French Burr Stones, two overſhot 18 feet water-wheels, and Evans's machinery complete, with every other thing proper and neceſſary for carrying on the buſineſs with diſpatch, and at as little expenſe as poſſible, all in good order.—From the mill to my landing on the Potomac river, (where craft, of any burthen may deliver grain and take in flour) it is about 40 yards, and from thence by water to George-Town and the City of Waſhington, about 3 miles, and to Alexandria about 11 miles. This ſituation, aided by a ſufficient capital, will command the produce of a very extenſive back country, where large quantities of wheat and other grain is annually made, the diſtance to it being from 8 to 10 miles leſs than to any market town upon the navigation of the Potowmac. There are on the premiſes a large ſtone Coopers' ſhop, a ſtone granary, and a commodious miller's houſe. At the landing aforeſaid a bridge is now building over the Potomac, which is in great forwardneſs and probably will be finiſhed the enſuing fall.
There are alſo on the premiſes, a Brewery and Diſtillery, built with ſtone, in them are three ſtills, two coppers or boilers, with every neceſſary article, all new, and in good order, and ſufficiently large to carry on the Brewery and Diſtillery upon a very extenſive plan. This property I will rent for the ſame term of years.
Upon my lands adjoining the premiſes, and along the banks of the river, where craft may load with eaſe and diſpatch, is an immenſe quantity of building and ſoundation-ſtones. Four quarries are now open, and as many more may be opened with eaſe: the ſtone taken from theſe quarries is better, and has the preference at this market, to any other ſtone brought to it. I will rent theſe quarries ſeparately or together as may beſt ſuit.
On the top of the hill, and about 200 yards from the mill, is a ſtone Dwelling-houſe, large enough for the accommodation of a family: alſo, a kitchen, dairy, ſmoke-houſe, &c. and a garden, encloſed and in cultivation, the ſoil of which is equal in goodneſs to any in this ſtate. I will alſo rent this property.
Adjoining to the Brewery and Diſtillery is a Smith's ſhop, in which is a complete ſet of Blackſmith's tools, which I will alſo rent, and if agreeable I will hire to the tenant two negro blackſmiths, one of them is a complete workman.
If I rent out the ſtone quarries, I will ſell three crafts, which were built for the purpoſe of carrying ſtone: they will altogether bring upwards of 90 perch. Immediate poſſeſſion will be given. For terms apply to the ſubſcriber in this town.
The Mill, Brewery and Diſtillery, with their appurtenances, will be delivered to the tenant or tenants in good repair, and muſt be ſo returned, at the expiration of the leaſe or leaſes.

The Group;

Or, An ELEGANT REPRESENTATION ILLUSTRATED.

Embellished with a beautiful head of S. VERGES, C. S.

THE publisher thinks it a mark of respect, due to a liberal and enlightened public, to inform them that this is the Poem for the publishing of which he has been twice dragged from his house, and is now laboring under a vexatious prosecution. He is conscious that the piece contains nothing either criminal or offensive, unless original wit, decorated in elegant language, be criminal or disgusting to the prevalent taste; and, as he trusts that neither of these is the case, he submits the work to the public with a full assurance of its meeting with a favorable reception.

He would beg his prosecutors to call to mind (if they have ever read it) the following apologue to a well known romance—"A young painter, indulging a vein of pleasantry, sketched a kind of Conversation Piece, respecting a bear, an owl, a monkey, and an ass; and to render it more striking, humourous, and moral, distinguished every figure by some emblem of human life. Bruin was exhibited in the garb and attitude of an old, toothless, drunken soldier; the owl perched upon the handle of a coffee-pot, with spectacles on his nose, seemed to contemplate a newspaper; and the ass ornamented with a huge tye-wig (which, however, could not conceal his long ears) sat for his picture to the monkey, who appeared with the implements of painting. This whimsical group afforded some mirth, and met with general approbation, until some mischievous wag hinted the whole was a lampoon upon an old officer, a physician, and a member of Parliament; an insinuation which was no sooner circulated, than these people began to be alarmed, and even to fancy themselves signified by the several figures in the piece. The furious group fell upon the painter, who declared that he had no design to give offence, or to characterize particular persons. They affirmed, the resemblance was too palpable to be overlooked,—and their clamours being overheard by the public, the Captain was a bear, the Doctor an ass, and the Senator an owl, to their dying day."——If a similar fate should attend the persons who will insist upon being the members of this group, the public will do the publisher the justice to remember that it is no fault of his.

For the GAZETTE of the UNITED STATES.

MR. FENNO,

THE following extract from a Poem entitled "THE GROUP," published by T. Stephens, is replete with TRUTH and genuine wit. Its poetic excellence has seldom been equalled, perhaps never excelled, by any votary of the muses in the United States. It certainly merits a place in every newspaper that is friendly to the "peace, liberty and safety" of our country.

OLIVER.

"WHEN Britain, smarting for an Infant lost,
Pour'd War's black tempest round our trembling coast,
Deep, and more deep the gath'ring vapours croud,
And Death's red standard glitter'd in the cloud.
This did they see, and all the Jac'bin crew,
Appall'd, to lurking holes of safety flew,
While burst the din of battle on their ear,
And in their coward caverns stunk for fear.
The brave did then in many a phalanx join,
And Justice gave new vigour to the line;
Then did our Chieftain wave his warrior arm,
"Ride in the whirlwind and direct the storm,"
Thro' many a sleepless night and labour'd day
Bring glory, happiness, and peace away;
While Sister virtues fair, from every shore,
Emboss'd the tributary wreath he wore,
And Heav'n, his soul approving, stoop'd to hear
The voice of Conscience sing so sweetly there.

But danger past, the aggravated roar,
Of hurtling War, and Carnage, heard no more,
Why they could steal, in safety from their den,
And bid each dastard hair lie smooth again;
View his meridian beam with flutt'ring gaze,
Or shut their orbs of darkness on the blaze.
Could, ever anxious for the spoils of strife,
Blaspheme their Country's dearest name, and life;
Wing the black shaft, protrude their blades of lath,
And spit their froth, and venom round his path.
Thrice brilliant souls, to you each Gnome shall raise
The shout of triumph, and the song of praise,
And every Urchin of the dark abode
Shall scatter wrecks of havock in your road.

The hour is hast'ning, when on equal feet
Exalted virtue, and low vice shall meet;
When Envy, Faction, Indolence shall rage,
In one wild tempest, thro' the troubled age:
Then human dignity shall meet it's doom,
Devotion perish, reason, worth, a tomb,
In the rude wastes of ignorance, shall find,
And true equality shall bless mankind.
So when the Kamsin of the desert flies
'Twixt ardent sands, and summer kindled skies,
The gasping trav'ler meets the arid death,
And, prostrate in the dust, resigns his breath.
Then shall no pedant Priest, with learned pride,
Point out the sacred volume for our guide;
No more the civil law, or moral page,
The arm shall fetter, or the soul encage;
But pile on pile the file of Arts shall raise,
And all the knowledge of all ages blaze.
As when the Gothic conflagration hurl'd,
Its smoky volumes round the sleeping world:
The fiend of ruin, with demoniac yell,
Flits round the flame, directs the works of Hell,
With sheets of sulphur wings the driving gale,
And shakes destruction from his dragon tail.
Yet, not as then: the once extinguish'd ray
Shall ne'er resuscitate another day;
Here, science, thy last stage of being lies!
No other Phœnix, from thy dust, shall rise;
And no sad vestige shall remain to tell,
The temple's basis, where thou lov'dst to dwell.

ROYAL ANECDOTE.

During the Royal residence at Cheltenham, it was remarked, by the keepers of the several turnpike gates, that his majesty in his short excursions, paid no toll. The right of his Majesty to pass toll-free happening to become the subject of conversation in a large company at Worcester, Robert Sleth, an honest blunt fellow, and keeper of Barban gate, strenuously urged that his majesty, in his private capacity, was liable to the toll, declaring, at the same time, that though he respected his sovereign, if ever he came to Barban gate, he should not pass till the toll was paid.

A short time after, honest Robert's resolution was put to the test, for his majesty, in his route to Worcester, came to Barban gate. On the arrival of the first horseman that preceded the royal carriage, Robert having previously locked the gate, stood with the keys in his hand, and demanded the toll. The Equerry, in an accent of perturbed impatience, said, "Open the gate instantly, for his majesty is at hand."—"I know that," replied Robert, but his majesty is not at the head of an army, and must pay the toll. The servant remonstrated with threats and indignation, but Robert was not to be frightened; he heard him with placid indifference, till his majesty's carriage came in sight. The attendant was now reduced to the necessity of having resource to polite entreaty, assuring Robert, that the person who followed his majesty's carriage would pay the regular demand. On this assurance the gate was opened, and the whole cavalcade, accompanied by an immense crowd, passed, but Robert received not one penny. Sleth, however, was aware that his majesty would return to Cheltenham the following day, and must pass the gate again. Accordingly having heard that the royal equipage was approaching, he locked the gate, and took his station as before. The same Equerry preceded the carriage, and began again to remonstrate, but honest Sleth swore roundly that no one should pass till he had received the toll for both days. The royal attendant, perceived that verbal means were not likely to prevail, paid Sleth about twenty-seven shillings, threatening to crush him with the weight of legal vengeance; but Robert pocketed the money, and has never yet been called to an account for his conduct.

From the (New-York) MINERVA.

IT is in politics as in philosophy, the most of our knowledge and the best of it is obtained by experiment. Fortunately for us these experiments, so instructive to America, are trying not at our cost. France is a fiery furnace in which, we hope, the gold of republican principles are purging off the base alloy of democracy. The democrats in that country as well as in this, have disregarded the nature of man, and with all the blustering consequence of ignorant philosophy, have pretended to found government upon his rights. Despising experience, which for ages has confirmed the maxims of good sense, they abhorred the division of the legislature into two branches. That, says Drouet, the head of the plot lately found out and published in our gazettes, that is English, nothing more is wanting to make it a monarchy, but a king. This seems to have been the spark that kindled his wild passions to plot the most horrid crimes, to burn, rob and kill. The French Cataline was very like the antient.

Mark it well, wise men of America, our democrats hold the very same principles. When they speak out, they condemn the senate as useless and aristocratical. When they are afraid to speak, their actions explain their views. From the very first, they have abused the senate in every gazette, and very lately they did their utmost to make that body and the president nothing and the house of representatives every thing.

Drouet established an insurrectional committee; in like manner, our democrats have their insurrectional clubs. The French plotters pretended to be exclusive patriots. This is the very character assumed by the party in Bache's, Greenleaf's, and Adams's anarchical papers—who forgets the changes they have rung upon the words patriotic party, balance in government. The have an early claim to the title of exclusive patriots—let them wear it with as much honor as Drouet and his accomplices and with rather more safety to their precious necks.

Simple democracy is certainly going into disgrace in France and America. Let it go. A single assembly may begin honest, but if it has the whole power, it will soon become not only rash and wicked, but will lose its own liberty and independence, and become the invader of the rights and property of the citizens. These are old truths in this country, our government has ever proceeded on the true republican principles of a divided legislature. Republicanism equally requires a single, responsible and energetic executive. Yet very lately one of the democratic gazettes extolled the French constitution for having five. This betrays no little rashness and ignorance of the science of politics. For at this time of day, who that knows any thing is ignorant that where the executive power is too weak there can be no strength in the laws, no means of self-preservation for the public liberty?

Let us remain at peace, and if our insurrectional committees, our exclusive patriots, the terrorists, who would have driven the constituted authorities into a rejection of the treaty, if they should not be able to erect the guillotine upon the ruins of law and liberty we may not only continue to preserve our heads, but to be as we now are, the happiest people on the globe.

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS.

We are happy to learn that a few days since, the water had a free course through Mr. Blodget's Canal, at the Falls in New-Hampshire. He has persevered nearly three years in this laudable undertaking.

From Lansingburgh, August 19.

A few years ago, there was but one Stage between this town and Albany; it was established and maintained at great expence, and for considerable time had little encouragement. At this day, this mode of travelling, has so increased, that twenty Stages daily pass and repass between the neighboring towns of Lansingburgh, Troy, Waterford and Albany, and the average number of passengers exceed 150. This we think no indifferent proof of the growth and prosperity of this flourishing part of United and happy America.

LONDON, July 7.

Last Saturday two Russian ships of the line sailed from Yarmouth, in order to reinforce admiral Macbride's squadron.

Singularities.—The Parish of Dranie, county of Elgin, in Scotland, contains 1040 inhabitants, and has a sea-port. There is no lawyer, writer, attorney, physican, surgeon, apothecary, negro, Jew, gypsey, Englishman, Irishman, foreigner of any description, nor family of any religious sect or denomination, except the established church; there has not been an instance of suicide during the thirty-two years of the present minister's incumbency, nor has any native of the parish been hanged or banished in the memory of man.

Yesterday morning, about ten minutes after eight o'clock, William Henry Weston and John Roberts, alias Colin Ricquliss, convicted of forgery, were executed opposite the debtors door of Newgate. A little before eight o'clock they came on the scaffold, attended by a clergyman; and Weston, either from a wish to conceal his countenance, or from the agitation of his mind, kept a handkerchief close to his face, from the time of his coming out of the gaol till the cap was drawn over his eyes, & died with it in his hand; he appeared to pay very little attention to any thing around him, and when his fellow sufferer offered to shake hands with him, he seemed to refuse, by turning his back; he was very handsomely dressed in black, with his hair powdered. Roberts appeared to meet his fate with great fortitude. On Tuesday night, Weston was indulged in his cell with the company of a Divine and five friends, who remained with him till he ascended the scaffold. The concourse of people was immense. Each of their bodies were afterwards delivered to their friends.

It is reported that the mother of Weston died a few days ago, in Ireland, of a broken heart.

KINGSTON, (Jam.) July 28.

It was supposed that after tranquilising St. Vincents, St. Lucia and Grenada, general Sir R. Abercrombie would withdraw the troops to Barbadoes till the hurricane months were past, and then would make an attack on Guadaloupe.

The crews of the American vessels in this harbour, whether composed of British seamen or not, we cannot say, have lately made it a practice to leave their vessels: a few nights ago an American barque lost her whole crew, they carried with them the boat, and when they left her they run an iron crow through her bottom.

PARIS, June 22.

Four Journals continue here to preach up Jacobinism and Revolutionary measures, viz. Louvet's Sentinelle, L'Ami des Loix of the ex-monk Poultier, the Journal des Hommes Libres, and the Journal des Patriotes de 1789. Notwithstanding the exertions which are made to spread these Journals, they cannot muster in the whole 4000 subscribers, a convincing proof of the small number of their partizans in France. The moderate Journals on the contrary, to the number of 18 or 20, have upwards of 150,000 subscribers.

In the sitting of the Council of Five Hundred on the 22d, it was announced by the Directory, that in 52 Departments, 46,320 offers have been made to purchase national estates, and that the sum total of those offers amounted to 79 millions.

In the sitting of the Council of Elders of the 23d, the question was discussed, "Whether a verbal process should be drawn up concerning the secret sittings, which are held on the subject of Drouet," which was decided in the negative. Drouet is to appear this day, the 25th to make his defence.

PORTSMOUTH, July 6.

Yesterday the Prince, of 98 guns, was cut in his Majesty's Dock-yard in order to be lengthened; and this day the parts were drawn asunder 17 feet 6 inches, the intended length —This is the first ship of her magnitude ever known to be cut to be lengthened.

PHILADELPHIA,

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1796.

MARRIED, On Saturday evening last, by the Rev. Dr. Meder, Capt. FRANCIS ATKINSON HUNT to the amiable Miss SARAH DUNTON, daughter of Capt. William Dunton of this city.

The United States frigate, building in Southwark, under the direction of Mr. Humphreys, is in such a state of forwardness, that it is probable she might be launched befors the ensuing winter, should occasion require.

It is with pleasure we observe that the use of Oxen in lieu of Horses, for the common purposes of farming and for draught, is daily becoming more prevalent throughout the state.

One drover lately brought down near three hundred head of cattle in one drove to the vicinity of this city, from the western parts of the state, which he very soon disposed of—A large proportion of these were steers.

The advantage which the use of Oxen gives over Horses, consists in the following particulars:

They require less feed,
Will perform more labour,
Make better manure,
And, When they have become so old as to be unfit for service, will sell for slaughter, and bring a considerable proportion of their original cost: A Horse, on the contrary, when worn out, is good for nothing.

The continuance of the very high prices of all kinds of flour and bread, is one of those extraordinary things for which it is difficult to account or assign any rational cause. The spirit of speculation in grain has raged to such a degree, that there is no doubt we should have been brought to a state of starvation had not the country been inexhaustible. It has been said, that there is at this moment, notwithstanding the immense quantities of which the United States have been drained, a sufficiency of grain of the last year's crop to serve for the ordinary consumption 'till the ensuing harvest, without any aid from the crop of the present year, which is well known to have been abundant. This being the case, is it not very unaccountable, on any just principles, that the article of grain should be higher here than in France, Spain, and Great-Britain, to which countries we have been for twelve months past pouring in such enormous supplies?

BY THIS DAY's MAIL.

BOSTON August 30.

ARMED NEUTRALITY.

A junction of the Swedish and Danish Grand fleets, took place early in June, and they immediately proceeded on a cruize into the North Seas, to protect their commerce from being disturbed by the cruizers of the warring nations. These powerful neutrals have been almost as frequently damaged by the tyrants of the ocean as America. Our navigation is now tolerably secure, thanks to negociation—and they are obliged to equip a large and expensive fleet, for the protection of their's.

This remark, however, is only good as it respects English cruizers. The French indeed, have commenced a partial hostility on our vessels: but this is more to be attributed to the advice of some of our "exclusive Patriots," than any bad disposition of the French.

By a brig which arrived on Sunday, in 64 days from Gibraltar, we learn, that the Emperor of Morocco, has issued orders for the capture of all vessels bound to the ports possessed by his revolted brother, under the appellation of enemy's ports. Under these orders, a Dane, a Swede, a Portuguese, and an American, have been taken. The latter was the brig Emmeline, Prentis, of Boston: she was bound to Safea. The former vessels were, cleared, in consideration of their sailing previous to the general promulgation of the orders. The American Consul at Gibraltar, was trying to get the Emmeline released, and it was thought would succeed.

FROM SURINAM.

Capt. Stover, from Surinam, which he left Aug. 2, informs, that two English frigates lay at the mouth of the river, in sight of the Dutch squadron, at New-Fort. The Dutch Admiral brought out with him Danish registers, for the merchantmen at that place; the English knowing this, capture all vessels under Danish colours; yet notwithstanding the certainty of being taken by the frigates below, these merchantmen are sent out daily, captured, and sent to Demarara. Five sail were captured one day in sight of a Dutch frigate which lay down the river. The admiral is suspected of connivance at these captures. The English are expected to take possession of Surinam, and it is thought little resistance would be made. Capt. Stover believes neither British king's ships, nor Bermudian privateers, molest American vessels at present; as he was very near such vessels on his homeward bound passage. Markets were exceeding low Beef 10 dolls. Pork 14. Flour 10, &c.

FROM GUADALOUPE.

We hear, that in consequence of the misconduct of an American captain, who after engaging his whole cargo to government, sold it to individuals, the government there has declared, that no vessels shall be permitted to an entry at any other ports but those of Bay Mahou, Point Petre, and Port Louis. And as soon as they arrive at either of these places, a guard is put on board that continues with the vessel till all the provisions are out of her.

Capt. Stover, about 12 days before his arrival, spoke brig ——, Plumer, from New-York, just to the southward of Bermuda. Left a number of American vessels at Surinam, of which we suppose the following a correct list.

Henry, Holden, of Providence, Captain Sick; brigs, Hannah, Brown, Providence; Rebecca, Fenner, do. Joseph, Francis, do. Three Friends, Indicot, Salem; schooner Rover, Johnson, Boston, Seaflower, Gardiner, do. Fame, Tilden, of do. Sloops, General Greene, Borden, Charleston; Smithfield, B. Alger, Providence.——Sailed in company with the following vessels, after being embargoed two months, viz. Ships, General Washington, Dexter, Providence; Maria, B. Arnold, do. Richmond, Newel, Philadelphia; John, Whitwell, Amsterdam; brigs, Paramarabo, Greene, Baltimore; Sally, Lord, Boston; Cincinnatus, ——, Philadelphia; Elizabeth, Coats, Titcomb, Newburyport; Lydia, E. Shelby, Salem; Sea Nymph, ——, Amsterdam; Courier, J. Spencer. Charleston, S. C. Nancy, Strong, Amsterdam; schooner Edward, Penrise, Baltimore; sloop Friendship, Briggs, Providence—and a number of other vessels; some bound for a market, and others for different parts of America, with about 20 sail of Danes and Swedes.

On Saturday last sailed from this port, on a voyage to the north-west coast of this continent, the brig Hazard, Capt. Swift; and this day, weather permitting, will sail the ship India Packet, Capt. Caswell. Both these vessels, as well as all employed in the same trade, are elegant specimens of American naval architecture—and are equipped in a style, equal, if not superior, to the much praised Packet ships of Great-Britain. There are now almost as many ships employed in these enterprising voyages from this port, as a few years since actually belonged to it, however different their route of trade.

Yesterday the Honorable Supreme Judicial Court was opened in this town. The Honorable Chief Justice gave a short, though comprehensive charge to the Grand Jury, in which he noticed the present prosperous and happy situation of our country. After which the throne of grace was addressed by the Rev. Dr. Thatcher.

The unfortunate event of the robbery of the Nantucket bank, will, we learn, come before the Grand Jury this term. A great number of the inhabitants of Nantucket, are in town, as evidences. It must be the wish of every patriot, that the issue may be such as shall restore confidence and good neighbourhood to an island, which promised before this event, the attainment of the highest prosperity.

Yesterday the British frigate La Raison, arrived in Nantasket road. It is said, she has had a brush at sea.

NEW-YORK, September 3.

Mr. M'Lean—Please to publish the following in your Gazette.

Having seen an anonymous piece in yesterday's Argus, entitled "Bite the Biter,' wherein it was said, that the ship Eliza had been a prize to the Thetis, British frigate, and that since the accident of losing her spars, she had been captured by about a dozen Yankees! In answer to which, I think proper to state the following facts: Being boarded within three miles of Cape Henry, by the above frigate, and a prize master put on board, who not knowing well how to proceed, he, by some fatality or other, got within Sandy Hook; where, meeting with no opposition from the crew, I took possession of my own ship, and brought her safe to this port; in the performance of which, no violence was used by any person on board.

G. G. HUSSEY.

NAVAL ENGAGEMENT.

Extract from the log-book of the brig Tothill, Captain Lovell, arrived yesterday from St. Croix.

On Saturday last, the Chesapeake bearing about W. N. W. saw three ships of war standing to the westward, one of which altered her course about 11, A. M. and stood to the northward, the other two continued their course to the westward, and passed us about a mile ahead, without shewing colours, or offering to speak us; we soon after saw a signal made by one of the two, and the ship to the northward immediately tacked and stood after them; we continued our course to the northward. Next morning, early, we discovered three other ships bearing about west from us, distance about 3 leagues, Cape-Charles then bearing about west, distance about twelve leagues, the ships shaped their course for us, but on some guns firing, which we took to be near the Chesapeake, two of the largest ships tacked and stood for that place—the other, which appeared to be a sloop of war, continued her course for us, but about 9, on a signal made from the other ships, she tacked and stood for them, and about 11 o'clock they were out of sight, at 12 we discovered them standing to the eastward under full sail, and soon discovered four other ships in chase, which continued until about 5 o'clock, when one of the ships coming up with one of the ships chased, an action commenced, which lasted but a few minutes, and as soon as the smoak cleared away, so as to discover the ships, we missed one of them, which we are persuaded must have sunk, another ship then coming up with the one which had been engaged, they continued their course after the other two, which at dark appeared to be about a league distance.

We are further informed, that the Hope, Capt. Cook, saw, on the day following, Monday, six frigates in company, off the Capes, standing to the eastward; but they shewed no colours.

Extract of a letter from an officer of high rank, at the Cove of Cork, to another in Dublin, dated June 25.

"Our fleet lately brought in a large vessel under Swedish colours, but suspected to be Dutch property: no papers were found on board to condemn her; the prize was doubtful, and was sent to England to be tried.

"Yesterday a fisherman, off the harbor, hooked a jar corked, to which a hatchet was tied for the purpose of sinking it. On opening the vessel it was found full of papers, which were brought to Admiral Kingsmill. They were the very papers of this ship, proving her to be Dutch, and the property French; and naming several American ships fitted out in the same way."

[Extraordinary as this circumstance appears, we pledge ourselves for its veracity.]

Halifax papers received yesterday by the armed schooner Charles and Mary, Capt. A. Kidston, in 11 days from Halifax, contain the following.

HALIFAX, August 13.

We are sorry to hear that his majesty's ship Active, having on board Lord Dorchester and family, is wrecked on the island of Anticosti. The passengers, officers and crew, were fortunately saved.

Yesterday arrived the Shark sloop of war, in 15 days from Newfoundland. A ship from England fell in with a fleet of five French frigates cruising off the Banks; but being provided with a fictitious set of papers, had the good fortune to persuade the Frenchmen, she was American property—and thus escaped, and arrived a few days after at Newfoundland.

August 20.

Monday sailed for England his majesty's ship Hussar, Capt. Rowley, having under her convoy, the Trelawny mast ship, and two transports.—In her went passengers—Major Vesey, Mr. and Mrs. Belcher of this town, &c.

Same day arrived his majesty's snow Earl of Moira, Capt. Fawson. In her have arrived his excellency the right hon. Guy Lord Dorchester and family.

Tuesday arrived his majesty's ship Pearl, Capt. Ballard, with the crew of the Active frigate, lately wrecked on the island of Anticosti.

Arrived also, his majesty's ships La Raison, Captain Beresford, and L'Esperance, Captain Ross.

La Raison has brought in with her the ship Harmony, from Philadelphia, bound to Amsterdam, and the brig Polly, from Havre, bound to Boston.

Wednesday arrived the Sloop Portland Packet, in 4 days from Boston—in which came passengers; the Hon. David Howell, Esq. Commissioner, and the Hon. James Sullivan, Esq. Agent on the part of the United States, for ascertaining the St. Croix boundary, Mr. Samuel Webber, Professor of Astronomy at Cambridge, Mr. John Sullivan, son of the Hon. J. Sullivan, Mr. Smith, Merchant, of Newbury-port, and Mr. Sanger, Merchant of Baltimore.

Thursday sailed his Majesty's armed snow Earl Moira, Capt. Fawson for Lunenburgh.—His excellency sir John and Lady Wentworth—J. M. F. Bulkley, esq. and capt. Thesiger, of the royal Nova-Scotia regiment, have gone in the snow, on a pleasurable excursion to that part of the province.

Thursday arrived the American ship Argo; sent in by La Raison frigate; and on the same day, La Raison sailed on a cruize.

Capt. Ward, of the brig Julia, arrived yesterday, in 28 days from Demarara—on the 9th August came under the lee of Martinique, and saw a number of British cruisers. On the 11th, put in at Nevis, to fill up water. While Capt. W. was there, the sloop Commerce of New-York, Capt. Swan, from Martinique, arrived, the captain of which informed, that 20 American and 4 Danish vessels from Surinam and Demarara, were carried into Martinique by the British cruisers, and he supposed they would be condemned.

Capt. Ward, spoke on the 21st August, a brig from Baltimore, bound to Hispaniola, Captain Bunker, 21 days out, lat. 29, 4, long. 67, 00.

Mr. J. C. Ten Bosch, came passenger in the Julia.

SALEM, August 23.

PROFESSOR EBELING,

Of Hamburg, has sent into America the third volume of his American Geography, of which we gave a specimen lately under the article, Salem. This intelligent and ingenious inquirer into the history of our country has considered his work as the continuation of Busching, whose work comprehending the Geography of Europe is in eleven volumes in the last edition. Professor Ebeling gives in his first volume New-Hampshire and Massachusetts; in his second, Rhode-Island, Connecticut, Vermont, and New-York; in the third, he continues New-York and New-Jersey. He has been careful to collect the best authorities, and has had great success. A French translation is now printing at Paris, and we hope that an American translation will not be forgotten. The plan of Busching has not been followed by any works we now have, and it so well unites the statistical accounts with the geography and local divisions, including all the works known either as "States of Countries, Geographies, or Gazetteers," as to demand a preference. The edition of Paris will have several corrections, and a new German edition is expected. This geographer, with professor Hegewisch of Kiel, has begun an American Magazine; of which the first number has reached us, which will be a repository of our most useful statistical and commercial information. There is also publishing, under his inspection, a collection of Maps of America, by the Geographer of Berlin.

For the SALEM GAZETTE.

Mr. CARLTON,

Please to publish the following translation from the first number of the American Magazine, published at Hamburg by Professors Hegewisch, and Ebeling, 1795—it being intended as a just tribute of respect to our countryman.

"Dissertation on the character, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ, and the evidences of his gospel, with remarks on some sentiments advanced in a book, entitled, The Age of Reason.

By J. Belknap. 8vo. Boston, 1795. 140 pages.

"PAINE's work soon reached North-America, where it was reprinted, and much noticed, not only from the high character of his works in that country, but on account of the bold manner in which he employs ridicule in opposition to the doctrine of faith. Priestley and others have written against him. The present work is from one of the most worthy divines of the United States. This learned and well written dissertation, as well as his excellent "History of New-Hampshire," and his "American Biography," which by its continuance would furnish the best materials for the history of that part of the globe, discovers research, judgment and taste. It shews him with honor in his profession, in his evidences clear, and animated, without any angry expressions against those who differ from him in opinion, and it employs the truths of Christianity to support the hopes of virtue.

The arguments, tho against Paine, are comprehensive, and are adapted to a sound understanding, and to the hearts of sober, tho' unlearned men. It is also a merit in this work, that the great object is regarded, with great advantage to the writer, without the rude reflections which the person against whom he writes, without the least regard to decency employs. The spirit of the whole work exalts the author above common theological disputants.—His opposer can scarcely be named above a positive man, writing for popularity. The wonders which Paine's writings may perform in America must ever be invisible. Allen another North American, and wonderful man, with his ORACLES OF REASON, which had no reason in them, just appeared and vanished.

CHARLESTON. (S.C.) August 18.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Nassau, New-Providence, to his friend in this city, dated July 14, 1796.

"About ten days ago there was a fleet of merchantmen sailed from this port for London, convoyed by the Narcissus of thirty-four guns, and Swallow of twenty-eight; the first that ever was entirely loaded with the produce of these Islands, consisting chiefly of cotton, estimated to be worth 90,000l. Previous to their sailing, the merchants gave a most elegant entertainment to the officers of the navy, &c. On Monday afternoon July 3d, an account was brought to town by a negro who escaped in an open boat, that six vessels carrying from fifty to one hundred and twenty-tons, which sailed on Friday from Nassau harbor for the out islands, to bring cotton, were all taken by a French privateer. The inhabitants immediately beat up volunteers, it was then four o'clock: by nine the same evening they manned and victualled a snow, two galleys, and a schooner, and went off in quest of the enemy to retake the vessels. On Monday the schooner fell in with a cartel sloop from Cape Nichola Mole, who from her appearance she judged hostilely inclined; boarded and brought her in. She again put to sea in quest of the vessels, when, after three days sail, fell in with the privateer; the captain perceiving he could not escape, quitted the privateer, and got on board the fastest sailer of those vessels he had captured, taking about two thousand dollars with him. The schooner captured the privateer, and recaptured five of the six sail. There were eighteen prisoners on board the privateer when taken. The Swallow gave chace to the other vessel, which it was supposed she would soon come up with. The salvage on the re-capture of those vessels, together with the privateer, will be above 1200 pounds to the adventurers."

And approved notes, securing payment in either money or prizes, in ten days after drawing, will be received to any number not less than 30 tickets.

This Lottery will afford an elegant specimen of the private buildings to be erected in the City of Washington---Two beautiful designs are already selected for the entire fronts on two of the public squares; from these prawings it is proposed to erect two centre and four corner buildings, as soon as possible after this lottery is sold, and to convey them, when complete, to the fortunate adventurers, in the manner described in the scheme for the Hotel Lottery. A nett deduction of five per cent. will be made to defray the necessary expenses of printing, &c. and the surplus will be made a part of the fund intended for the National University, to be erected within the city of Washington.

The Drawing will commence as soon as the tickets are sold off.---The money prizes will be payable in thirty days after it is finished; and any prizes for which fortunate numbers are not produced within twelve months after the drawing is closed, are to be considered as given towards the fund for the University; it being determined to settle the whole business in a year from the ending of the drawing, and to take up the bonds given as security.

The real securities given for the payment of the Prizes, are held by the President and two Directors of the Bank of Columbia, and are valued at more than half the amount of the lottery.

The twenty four gentlemen who by appointment of the late Commissioners assisted in the management of the Hotel Lottery are requested to undertake this arduous task a second time on behalf of the public; a sufficient number of these having kindly accepted, it is hoped that the friends to a National University and the other federal objects may continue to favor the design.

By accounts received from the different parts of the Continent as well as from Europe, where the tickets have been sent for sale, the public are assured that the drawing will speedily commence, and that the care and caution unavoidably necessary to insure a safe disposal of the tickets, has rendered the short suspension indispensable.

SAMUEL BLODGET.

☞ Tickets may be had at the Bank of Columbia; o James West & Co. Baltimore; of Peter Gilman, Boston of John Hopkins, Richmond; and of Richard Wells Cooper's Ferry. eo
